Five U. S. Transports Lost During African Invasion; 5 Damaged

Washington, Dec. 3 (AP)—The Navy department announced today that five United States Naval transports were lost during the occupation of north Africa by United States forces.

Three other transports, one destroyer, and one tanker were damaged during the operation.

The transports sunk were listed in the communique as the Tasker H. Bliss, the Hugh L. Scott, and the Edward Rutledge, which were sunk off Casablanca; the Joseph Hewes, sunk off Rabat and the Leedstown, sunk off Algiers.

The communique said the next of kin of personnel killed, wounded, or missing were being notified by telegram.

The names of the damaged vessels were not disclosed.

Official Communique

Communique, Number 209, follows:

Africa:

"1. The following United States Naval transports were lost during the early part of November as a result of enemy submarine torpedoes during the occupation of north Africa by United States forces.

"(A) The Tasker H. Bliss, Hugh L. Scott and the Edward Rutledge were sunk off Casablanca.

"(B) The Joseph Hewes was sunk off Rabat.

"(C) The Leedstown was sunk off Algiers.

"2. Three other United States transports, one U. S. destroyer and one U. S. tanker were damaged during the operation.

"3. The next of kin of personnel killed, wounded, or missing are being notified by telegram as soon as information is received."

This was the Navy's first communique on operations in the north African area.

There was no mention of the possible number of men lost.

British Losses

London, Dec. 3 (AP)—The British aircraft carrier Avenger, three destroyers and five lighter vessels were among Allied Naval losses incident to the North African landings. A. V. Alexander, First Lord of the Admiralty announced today.

Alexander said the British destroyers Brook and Martin and the Netherlands destroyer Isaac Sweers were lost, along with the Avenger, two cutters, a sloop, a minesweeper and an anti-aircraft ship.

The Avenger is not listed in Jane's directory and Naval sources declined to identify her further. It is possible that she was a converted merchantman.

The Allied Naval losses were considerably smaller than expected, Alexander reported in a statement to the House of Commons. He said they were "far less than the enemy claimed."

6 Axis Ships Are Blasted Off Bizerte

(By The Associated Press)

London, Dec. 3—British naval guns have sunk four more enemy merchantmen and two destroyers bound for Tunisia with reinforcements for the Axis in the decisive battle for Bizerte and Tunis in which the opening shots apparently already have been fired, it was announced today.

The timely naval blow was struck on the night of December 1, the Admiralty said, and deprived the enemy of sorely needed fresh strength to face British and American troops converging on the bomb-battered Axis strongholds after smashing German counterattacks which touched off the heaviest fighting of the Tunisian campaign.

The convoy was attacked about midnight by a British force including three cruisers and, "in a spirited engagement," the communique said, "four enemy ships and two of the escorting destroyers were sunk or left burning wrecks."

No British ship suffered damage or casualties in the battle with the convoy, but the relatively new destroyer Quentin was sunk later on the way to her base. Most of her crew was reported saved.

Red Skiers Pound Nazis In Blizzard

By EDDIE GILMORE

Moscow, Dec. 3 (AP)—White-clad Russian ski troops pressed the Nazis back on blizzard-swept battlefields west of Moscow today while the Don and Volga the Red Army steadily closed the trap on Stalin's besiegers from recaptured heights northwest and southwest of the city.

Battlefront dispatches gave this account of the steadily mounting Russian winter drive:

South of Leningrad and west of Moscow the Germans were dying 1,000 a day as ski troops armed with tommy guns clashed with Nazi Alpinist reinforcements in some of the fiercest fighting of the past two weeks amid snow-blanketed Nazi tanks and trucks, now often abandoned and frozen.

On the Stalingrad front the Germans were resisting savagely in a fight for life, and the Russian onslaught went into its third week slowed but unstopped.

A communique said Soviet troops stormed and held another strategic height northwest of the city. This, with the height southwest of Stalingrad which was reported yesterday as recaptured, gave the Russians a field of fire over at least part of the German corridor of escape or reinforcement to Stalingrad.

The Germans rushed reinforcements into at least three key salients in a desperate effort to halt the Russian advance.

Abandoning Equipment
Strong forces of German Alpinists went into action east of Velikie Luki. Other special units appeared south of Rzhev where the Germans were trying to regain control of vital sections of the Rzhev-Vyazma rail line. Reinforcements also stiffened the German defense outside Stalingrad between the Don and Volga.

In the Rzhev and Velikie Luki sector of the central front blizzards, increasing in ferocity, slowed the movements but made no less savage the clashing of tank columns.

BENSON SEEKS REQUISITIONING OF SCRAP METAL

Launching the "Pearl Harbor Scrap" drive which is to deliver thousands of tons of scrap to the Japs "in the form of bombs and shells" on the anniversary of the sneak attack on Pearl Harbor, O. H. Benson called upon Adams countians to boost the per capita scrap collection rate in Adams county from its present 150 pounds per person to 200 pounds.

The intensive drive is to be completed by next Monday evening—December 7—when reports on the result of the new drive will be presented at the exercises in the court house when Adams county's Scrap Harvest achievement pennant will be presented.

Seeks Requisitioning

"Cooperation of every resident of the county must be secured to make the Pearl Harbor drive a success," Mr. Benson said as he reported that "some businessmen, farmers and industries in every section of the county have from one to 10 tons of scrap lying around but up to the present they have resisted every appeal of radio, press and members of the county and local committees" to release the scrap to the war effort.

County Chairman Benson disclosed today that he has conferred with an OPA official on plans for starting government requisitioning proceedings against some persons and businesses in the county who have refused to "sell and liberate to the war effort" their scrap supplies.

The drive in this state is headed by Governor James who has called for the collection of 50,000 tons of scrap before the first anniversary of Pearl Harbor next Monday. To reach that goal every resident of the state must turn in 10 pounds of scrap, Mr. Benson said.

80-Ton Collection

The Rural Crossroads scrap drive continues in this county with C. A. Cluck, Adams Electric cooperative superintendent, reporting the collection of more than 80 tons so far. The goal is 150 tons.

Morris Gitlin, local junk dealer, has reported that his November collections amounted to 225 pounds of scrap metal and 15 tons of rubber. He shipped 228 tons of scrap during the 30-day period, an average of more than seven tons a day, he said.

Cashtown community sold 18,730 pounds of scrap.

Mr. Walter, who once was a justice of the peace here and a former United States commissioner, had been in his law office on Baltimore street on Wednesday. On Armistice Day he suffered a heart attack but was able to return to his office later that week.

78th Birthday Friday

Mr. Walter would have observed his seventy-eighth birthday anniversary tomorrow.

A son of the late Jesse M. and Elizabeth A. (Myers) Walter, the deceased was born in Gettysburg on December 4, 1864. His father was a storekeeper here. He read law in the office of the late Judge David Wills and not long after his admission to the county bar on December 14, 1885, he went to the middle west where he spent eight years at Chicago, St. Paul and Duluth. Upon his return to Gettysburg, he practiced law in the office of the late George Benner but for the last 36 or 37 years had conducted his own law office on Baltimore street, opposite the court house.

WINTER GALE DROPS MERCURY ON WEDNESDAY

High winds and blinding flurries of snow Wednesday afternoon brought Adams county a taste of real winter weather and registered the lowest overnight temperatures so far this season. The wind reached gale proportions at times.

Wednesday's snow squalls coated town streets and rural highways with a layer of ice that resulted in at least one traffic accident in which two persons were injured. State highway cinder crews went to work on the Lincoln highway west of here Wednesday evening for the first time this winter.

High winds broke off tree tops and blew over telephone and light poles in several sections of the county and made the low temperatures feel like sub-zero weather to shivering countians. Garages had many calls for their limited supplies of anti-freeze solutions and some drivers got out their chains for slippery traveling Wednesday night.

9 Above at Arendtsville

The official minimum temperature in Gettysburg Wednesday night was 16 degrees in the official instruments of Dr. Henry Stewart, local observer, but at the weather station at the Arendtsville laboratory a low of nine degrees was recorded.

At dawn in Gettysburg the mercury had climbed to a point only nine degrees below freezing but high winds continued through the day.

Two persons were hurt when the car of Eugene Joseph Zurick, 19, Shamokin, skidded on the ice-covered Lincoln highway and overturned near Kane's store, west of Cashtown, about 10 o'clock Wednesday night. The driver was unhurt but Mrs. Catherine Palisca, 39, Shamokin, required treatment at the Warner hospital for lacerations of the forehead. Her daughter, Jean, aged 16, was treated at the scene for cuts on the lips.

Damage to the car was estimated at about $60 by Corporal F. C. Rus (Please Turn to Page 2)

A Christmas play will be a feature of this program and the primary department's program will also be included. The beginner's department will have its program on the morning of the 20th. Mrs. Guyon E. Buehler reported that during the past year a letter, a daily devotional book and a copy of the school paper "Terse" had been sent each month to each young person from the church in the U. S. service. This policy was voted to be continued during the coming year. Miss Nancy Butt, who has been secretary of the school for 19 consecutive years, with the exception of two years when she taught a class, asked to be relieved of her duties during the coming year. In appreciation of her service she was made a life member of the board.

Next Sunday the school will observe its 104th birthday. In addition to the above the following were present: Miss Esther Tipton, N. B. Schurman, Mrs. Paul Myers, Miss Alice Snyder, Miss Frances Gilbert, James Moore and Clarence Nuss. Following the business meeting refreshments were served. The next meeting will be held on January 13th at the home of Ray J. Kitzmiller.

COURT FREES COUNTY DRIVER

Paul C. Lightner, 26, Gettysburg R. 4, was found not guilty of manslaughter in the December sessions of the Washington county court at Hagerstown Wednesday. Judge Joseph Mish presided.

Lightner was charged with manslaughter following the death of Pvt. Cecil Oakley, 23, of Spooner, Washington, who was fatally injured the night of November 7 when a motorcycle he was operating collided with a truck driven by Lightner near Chocolate Park, Cascades, Maryland.

Investigating police said Lightner attempted to make a left turn at the intersection and collided with the motorcycle operated by Private Oakley who was attempting a right turn.

Lightner is employed as a truck driver by Kenneth Dengler, West Middle street, a sub-contractor.

Most Of Plant Destroyed; 200 Are Made Idle

Fanned by a 40-mile-an-hour west wind, flames this morning caused $175,000 damage to the Orrtanna Canning company plant. Water from five lines froze, in the eight-degree temperature, as it struck the walls of the concrete and frame two-story building. Firemen hit by water also were covered by ice.

The estimate of the loss in the three-hour blaze was made by I. Z. Musselman, owner of the plant which was erected in 1913, and his son, Howard Musselman, sales manager of the concern.

Cause Not Determined

The cause of the fire has not been determined. Equipment loss and damage to the plant was placed at $150,000 while the 4,000 cases of apples burned were valued at $25,000. The apples, packed in No. 10 cans, six to a case, were a government order.

The Musselmans said they will make every effort to rebuild the plant. The loss is partly covered by insurance.

Discovered at 7:30 o'clock in the ceiling of the cider processing department, by Peter McDannell, Biglerville R. D., plant foreman, and Melvin Herring, Cashtown, the flames spread quickly to other sections of the plant. In a short time the entire building, with the exception of the shipping room, was ablaze. The shipping room was separated from the main structure by a fire wall and a fire door.

The 200 employees—125 of whom are women—left the building safely. Some of the employees used fire extinguishers on the flames before quitting the building.

Old Records Destroyed

Destroyed were the boiler house, cider and pomace drying department, processing room, apple work room and cherry processing equipment.

A concrete block office building, standing 20 feet to the south of the main plant, also was destroyed.

The office caught fire when the flames crept across a roof that connected it with the main structure. The equipment and current records were removed from the office. Older records stored in the building were lost.

The burned section of the plant, which measured about 180 feet long and 40 feet wide, contained much valuable equipment. One machine destroyed was a vacuum retort for apples valued at $10,000. Other pieces lost included apple peelers, cherry pitters, exhausters, cider presses, pomace drier, boiler and tools.

In his early life he practiced farming and for a number of years was a salesman for the Nace-Rhodes company of Hanover. At the time of his death he was an elder of the York Springs Presbyterian church.

Soldiers Pleased With Local Gifts

From Camp Pickett, Virginia, has come a letter of appreciation for lap robes and card table covers made by volunteer members of the Adams county chapter of the Red Cross and sent to the orthopedic wards of the Camp Pickett hospital.

Miss Frances T. Southall, assistant field director for the Red Cross at Camp Pickett, wrote to say that the lap covers sent by the Adams county chapter are being used by wheel chair patients. She also expressed appreciation for the table covers "which have added a spot of color to the wards."

"We can assure you the boys are enjoying them," she concluded.

Cans of Apples Burst

Several guy wires holding the 80-foot smoke stack were broken, but the stack did not fall.

Four thousand bushels of apples stacked outside the eastern end of the plant also were destroyed. As the fire reached the four thousand cases of packed apples in the plant many of the cans could be heard bursting. Some of them shot 20 to 30 feet into the air as they burst.

The Orrtanna firm planned to complete its apple canning work for this season in about three days.

Other unloading buildings, in which much canned goods was stored, were not reached by the flames.

Government Contracts

The Musselmans said that about two-thirds of their operations this year had been in government contract.

This is the first fire the firm has had since the plant was built in 1913. The three fire companies, Cashtown, Fairfield and Gettysburg, poured water on the plant most of the morning. The water was pumped from Little Marsh creek about 500 feet north of the plant. This afternoon two lines of water were being poured on the fire.

Gettysburg firemen played three lines of water on the flames. These lines were 600, 700 and 800 feet long. The Cashtown line was 700 feet long and the Fairfield line 800 feet.

3 Pumps Freeze

The two Gettysburg and one Fairfield pumps were frozen when they arrived at the scene. After using hot water and packing the engines with blankets, coats and rags, the three pumps were put into operation.

Gettysburg firemen were headed by Chief James A. Aumen and Kenneth Little, chief of the Reaser company. Seventy firemen from the Gettysburg and Reaser companies were at the scene.

Chief Aumen returned to Gettysburg during the morning for coats and gasoline.

Wilbur Geyer, Cashtown chief, was in charge of 25 members of his company.

Floyd Brown, Fairfield chief, led fifteen firemen from his company. Coffee was served to the firemen at the scene by neighbors.

Soon after the fire was discovered a tractor was used to pull two freight cars from a siding at the north side of the plant. The freight (Please Turn to Page 3) cars contained empty cans.

A temporary office has been opened in the home of W. F. Yoder, treasurer of the company, near the plant in Orrtanna.

The wind, although responsible for spreading the flames rapidly, was credited by spectators at the scene with averting a more serious conflagration. Due to the fact that the wind was blowing from the west, the flames and sparks were sent to war dopen fields. Had the wind been coming from the east, most of the buildings of Orrtanna would have been in danger.

FIVE ALARMS IN 33 HOURS

The call the Gettysburg fire company received to Orrtanna this morning was the fifth alarm the local company answered in the last 33 hours.

Tuesday night about 10:45 o'clock they were called to the big barn fire on the former McIlhenny farm, a mile north of here along the Harrisburg road. At 4:30 o'clock Wednesday morning they were called back to that blaze.

About 4 o'clock Wednesday afternoon the firemen rode through icy winds and snow squalls to put out a chimney blaze at the home of Earl Wherley, a half mile north of Two Taverns.

Fire Rages Anew

Shortly after 9 o'clock the firemen were called back to the Harrisburg road fire scene when the smoking ruins of the big barn were fanned into flames by the high winds.

This morning, with some members of the company out of town on defense jobs, some away deer hunting and some confined to their homes by illness, a special call was sent to the members of the Reaser hose company at the local furniture factories. About 50 factory workmen responded and went along to Orrtanna to battle that fire.

Members of the Auxiliary unit of the local company stayed on emergency duty at the engine house this morning with a single piece of fire fighting equipment until the return of the equipment sent to Orrtanna.

Farm Parity Is Revised By House

Washington, Dec. 3 (AP) — The House by unanimous consent today passed legislation redefining agricultural parity to include the costs of all farm labor, a step against which President Roosevelt expressed "unalterable opposition" when anti-inflation proposals were before Congress two months ago.

The time parity redefinition was debated in the anti-inflation fight, one government office contended this might result in an increase in living costs of as much as $3,500,000,000 a year.

Representative Pace (D-Ga.), author of the measure, told the House he did not know what effects it might have on living costs.

The legislation now goes to the Senate.

Britain Not Bound By Darlan's Stand

Eden said in answer to a question that the government had not been consulted in advance about the statement.

The Foreign Secretary announced that the government would make a statement on the Darlan issue to a secret session of the House of Commons. The date was fixed but not made public for reasons of security.

The Foreign Secretary also announced that a government statement on the chaining of prisoners would be made before the Christmas recess.

Blinding Storms

High winds swept over Pennsylvania today after a series of driving, blinding storms that damaged property, stalled traffic and blanketed sections of the state under snow.

The season's first snow squall hit metropolitan Philadelphia last night, borne in by a biting, cold wind, and the temperature dropped to 18 above zero after midnight.

A tin roof was ripped from a three-story apartment building in Chester and signs crashed to the streets in Philadelphia and neighboring communities.

An urban bus skidded on ice and crashed into the steps of Philadelphia Academy of Natural Science. Twenty passengers were shaken up and three were taken to a hospital.

A score of buses and automobiles were unable to negotiate icy inclines. Philadelphia police received reports of 25 accidents.

The temperature dropped to 6 above zero in Pittsburgh and Kane, and 4 above in Somerset.

Buses, trolleys and trains ran late in the Pittsburgh area but few traffic mishaps were reported.

Ensign William Reed, 23, grandson of former U. S. Senator David A. Reed, received a severe head injury, possibly a fracture, when an automobile in which he was riding skidded on a Pittsburgh street and crashed into a pole.

George Poust, 22, of Windber R. 1, was killed in a head-on collision of two cars between Scalp Level and Pomeroy's Corners during the storm.

Snow swept a wide area of central and western Pennsylvania earlier yesterday. McKean county, where 10 inches of snow fell, was the hardest hit. Plows were called out there.

Potter county reported nine inches, Centre four and Sullivan and Lycoming two. Two to four inches fell in the northwestern area.

Representatives of the manufacturers yesterday said that Lieut. Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower had telegraphed from North Africa to commend the machine's usefulness on the firing line in North Africa.

Not A Single Trade Develops At Meetings Of Major League Baseball Owners

PHILS' PLIGHT UNCHANGED BY NATIONAL LOOP

By DAVE HOFF
Chicago, Dec. 3 (AP)—This is the third day of the stand-around party billed as the major league baseball meeting. But when someone posted a bulletin board notice to the effect "minor league baseball writers will meet tonight in room 708" the boys from the big cities agreed to attend too. "This major league meeting has been strictly minor so far," someone observed.

That's how it's been.
For one thing there has been nary a sign of a trade. The usual rumors float up and down hotel corridors but their originators—when tracked down—usually laugh off the yarn with an airy "you won't be able to confirm it."

May Set Record
If this keeps up it'll be the first time in the memory of the oldest writer present that there hasn't been some kind of player deal during the major league sessions.

For another thing, the Philadelphia story has been dumped back into President Gerry Nugent's lap, much to his dismay. The National league doctors, after wielding their stethoscopes over the faint Phils for the last few weeks, apparently have decided there's a spark of life left in the franchise but they haven't the energy to try to fan it into a red-hot ball club. That is, not during the war years.

Even the setting for today's joint meeting of the leagues with Commissioner K. M. Landis was different. Instead of holding forth in the usual loop hotel suite, the head men were to assemble across town at another hotel, where Landis lives. The judge recently had a minor operation.

There Ford Frick, the National league president, was expected to seek out an uncarpeted section of floor to bounce his two baseball center samples, one of gum rubber which makes up the innards of a golf ball, the other a cork creation coated with that mysterious bulata.

Demonstrate Centers
Yesterday, in a press review of the bounce characteristics of the two samples, Frick dropped the cork-bulata job. It hopped well enough to be useful in a game of jacks. But the golf-center item skipped blithely to the ceiling, exclaiming "ohs" and "ahs" of delight out of those writers from baseball cities still possessing slugging outfields.

The choice of 1943 baseball construction—employing one of those two centers—was to be agreed upon by the two leagues after this demonstration.

29 REPORT FOR BULLET QUINT

Coach "Hen" Bream's call for candidates for the Gettysburg college basketball team has been answered by 29 men, the largest squad in the history of the sport at the Battlefield school.

Unusual is the fact that the only senior veteran on the team is Gene Haas, a guard from Hanover, who has played a consistent brand of ball for the Bullets for three years. The backbone of the club, however, will be four juniors: George Drach, stellar backcourt man from Reading; Tony Yovicsin, lanky center from Steelton; and Hazleton high school's two high-scoring contributors, Cal Welliver and Vince Parnell.

From last year's freshman aggregation, Bream has some very promising material including: Don Freeman, a brilliant center prospect from Harrisburg; Roger Herr, guard, Altoona; John Ehrhart, forward, Teaneck, New Jersey; Robert Hart, Elkins Park; Jack Rice, guard, Baltimore, and Tom Cline, center, Gettysburg.

Much of the spark for the team is expected to come from a promising group of freshmen who will be eligible for varsity competition. They include: Cy Davis, Harrisburg; Ed Frasso, Reading; Bob Snodgrass, Pittman, New Jersey; Russ Wileman, Harrisburg; Dave Plank, Gettysburg; John Bacon, Westfield, New Jersey; John Denlinger, Marietta, and Phil Arnold, Wynote.

TOPS YARDAGE GAINS OF 1941

Philadelphia, Dec. 3 (AP)—The University of Pennsylvania's football team was beaten twice and tied once this fall but it gained three times as much yardage from scrimmage as did its opponents.

Penn's total was 2,083 yards against 668 for rivals and 1,738 for the Quakers' brilliant 1941 aggregation, beaten only by Navy.

The figures were announced today by Jules Schwartz, chief statistician of the Franklin field press box.

Bill Miller, of Clearfield, Pa., was the most consistent ground gainer. He carried 66 times for a gain of 384 yards, a 5.5 yard average.

Schwartz's figures showed that Penn backs fumbled 26 times and lost the ball nine times. The team was penalized 53 times for 445 yards, its foes only 25 times for 218 yards.

Both Penn and its opponents averaged 34 yards on punts, but the Red and Blue returned opponents' punts back 789 yards and allowed a carry-back of only 516 yards. Kickoffs totaled 237 yards for Penn against 315 for the opposition.

Penn threw 93 passes but completed only 35 for a total gain of 535 yards.

Bob Odell, tailback, led the team in gains with 423 yards, four more than Bert Stiff, leading ground-gainer last year.

San Diego, Calif., Dec. 3 (AP)—Catching for the San Diego All-Stars in a hot winter league baseball game, Hal Doerr of Los Angeles, brother of the Boston Red Sox' Bobby, smelted smoke. Then he discovered the fire, right under his nose. Someone had tossed a cigarette from the stands, setting his chest protector ablaze.

Atlanta, Dec. 3 (AP)—Rose Bowl football teams are the source of much satisfaction to fans but they come high.

The University of Georgia spent $51,206.80 for athletic scholarships last year, State Auditor B. E. Thrasher, Jr., reported. This was $8,470.40 more than Georgia Tech expended for the same purpose.

The money in both cases came from admission to athletic contests, student fees and laundry. Not a cent was charged to the state's taxpayers.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, Dec. 3 (AP)—Since the end of the baseball season, a lot of sports writers—including this one have been tossing off ideas about how the major leagues might operate in 1943. . . . The answer from the magnates meeting in Chicago seems to be: "We ain't having any, thanks." . . . Whether they're victims of ingrained disinclination to change their ways or merely hesitating to rush in where angels fear to tread is more than we can say right now, but apparently there's no intention of trying out any new plans until all the old ones have failed. . . . Latest suggestions we've seen in the press were to cut down travel to two long trips by holding six-game series and for the club owners to pool their interests and players to form one ten-club league, with the profits, if any, being shared equally. . . . which just gives you an idea why those guys spend so much time talking and then don't do anything.

In case you've been curious about Balata since this talk has come up about using it for the cores of baseballs, research shows it's a gum derived from the milky juice of the bully tree (Mimusops Globosa) which grows in Central America and the West Indies. . . . The Encyclopedia Britannica says it's "really an inferior form of gutta percha." . . . Last we heard of it, someone had just discovered it could be used for padding airplane cockpits and it had been put on the priority list. . . . It ought to fill the bill, though, as National league prexy Ford Frick explains: "We don't want a jack-rabbit ball because we may have many old men on the field and we don't want them to look silly."

TODAY'S GUEST STAR

Romney Wheeler, Associated Press: "If Bill Terry takes over the Phils, the government's travel curtailment won't bother him at all. . . . The Phils weren't going anywhere, anyway."

Jacobs' Beachcombers, who had been worried about so many good fighters going into the services, are feeling pretty good about the "gates" for three Tuesday boxing cards—$47,334.98 at Cleveland, $18,125 at Philadelphia and $7,896 at Pittsburgh. . . . The Bowlers' Victory legion, which turned over its first $35,000 contribution to the USO yesterday, will start Red Cross week December 7.

GET THE POINT?

Recent "it-oughta-be-a-record" notes reaching here report that Capt. Tom Billingsley of Fredericksburg, Virginia, James Monroe high made 23 successful placement kicks for points after touchdowns during the past season and Wayne Waters of Manson, Iowa, scored 19 straight extra points by plunges. . . . And the college scouts probably will go looking for the guys who made all those touchdowns.

SERVICE DEPT.

Campbell Kane, the former Indiana runner, says he finds it much more exciting to bank a fighter plane on a sharp turn than to round one of the sharp turns on an indoor track. Kane is getting his excitement at the Glenview, Illinois, Naval Air base. . . . Latest stunt at the Iowa Navy pre-flight school is a "wrestle royal," with representatives of each of the 12 athletic squadrons tugging until only one is left. . . . Anything to make 'em tough, eh?

TRIO SETS NEW MARKS IN GRID OFFENSE WORK

By ARNOLD DERLITZKI

Chicago, Dec. 3 (AP)—The 1942 collegiate football season's most proficient individuals when it came to making a football produce yardage were Frankie Sinkwich of Georgia, Rudolph (Little Doc) Mobley of Hardin-Simmons, and Ray Evans of Kansas.

Sinkwich, in accounting for 2,187 yards, became the first player in modern history to pass the 2,000 mark in total offense (passing and rushing). Mobley's 1,281 yards by rushing alone was another modern record, while Evans became the second man ever to complete more than 100 forward passes. Evans finished with 101, which is 13 short of the record established last year by Bud Schwenk of Washington university, St. Louis.

Leads Punters

The nation's No. 1 punter among those kicking 30 or more times was Bobby Clifers of Tennessee with a 42.89 yard average. Closely behind came North Carolina State's Art Faircloth with 42.2.

A pass receiving champion remained to be settled between Cullen Rogers of Texas A and M and Fred Salem of Texas Mines. Each had caught 36. Rogers gaining 417 yards and salem 491. However, one of Texas Mines' games had not been reported and Rogers still has one game to play, the American Football Statistical bureau reported in releasing today's tabulations.

In addition to the new marks by Sinkwich (who bettered the 1,928 total by Schwenk in 1941) and Mobley (who topped Colorado Whizzer White's 1,121 total in 1937), two other records were tied.

Tops in Attempts

Bill Dutton of Pittsburgh equalled the 209 ball carrying attempts Sinkwich set last year in winning rushing honors. However, Bob Kennedy of Washington State needs to carry the ball only seven times against the Texas Aggies this week to boost his total to 210 and a new record.

The other figure tied was that of 19 touchdowns passes by Columbia's Paul Governali. Davey O'Brien of Texas Christian completed the same number in 1937.

Among the statistical oddities was the fact that Tulsa, while carrying off team punting honors, failed to place a man among the individual leaders. The statistical bureau pointed out that this was because none of Tulsa's kickers punted the necessary 30 times. However, Glenn Dobbs, with 26 of his team's 56 punts, had the extremely high average of 48.3 yards.

TORNADO KILLS 5

Lincolnton, Ga., Dec. 3 (AP)—A tornado swirling over this section killed five negroes, injured at least a score of persons and leveled several homes late Tuesday.

The dead were residents of Lincolnton, in southeast Georgia. Telephone communication from this city to other sections was cut off by the storm and had not been restored Tuesday morning.

Engaged To Feller

The engagement of Virginia Winther (above), daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. P. Winther of Washington, to Bob Feller, former Cleveland Indians pitcher star now in the Navy, has been announced by Mrs. Winther. She said no date for the wedding had been set.

GREAT LAKES SERVICE TEAM LEADS NATION

New York, Dec. 3 (AP)—The Great Lakes Naval Training station football team, strong enough to have blanked seven of its 11 foes this season, is the nation's leading service team in the opinion of 81 sports writers polled by The Associated Press.

The sailors, whose eleven of World War I days also was outstanding, don't complete their schedule until Saturday against Notre Dame in Chicago but 50 of the voters decided that no matter what the outcome the sailors are the best.

Although the Army produced two teams late in August that were good enough to hold their own with various clubs from the National league the Navy snared the first six places among the top ten and also had the Pensacola fliers in the eighth spot.

The standing of the teams (first place votes in parentheses, points figured on 10-9-8-7 etc. basis):

First Ten	Points

Iowa Pre-Flight (12)	773

North Carolina Pre-Flight	591

ODT REQUESTS CURB ON BOWL GAME TRAVEL

By HAROLD CLAASSEN

New York, Dec. 3 (AP)—The Office of Defense Transportation in Washington asked the sponsors of the various New Year's Day football bowl games to restrict travel to the contests—and found the grid officials already practicing the suggestion.

"We have planned all along to dispose of all our tickets in Florida," declared Oscar E. Dooly, Jr., of the Orange Bowl group. "Approximately 85 per cent of the tickets already sold went to Miami."

In telegrams to the participating schools and the sponsors of the Jan. 1 games, Joseph B. Eastman of the ODT said that "long distance travel of fans and team followers must be discouraged" because of the war and cited the recent Army-Navy games as an example.

The service school clash was shifted from Philadelphia, where it customarily drew 102,000 spectators, to the Navy's field and played before 10,700 residents of Annapolis.

An Evening Thought

It is only the fear of God that can deliver us from the fear of man.—Witherspoon.

Just Folks

By Edgar A. Guest

PRAYER FOR VICTORY

If the day's business finds a lull
Swiftly that precious moment call
And dedicate it, there and then,
In prayer for all our fighting men.
If but one instant can be torn
From all the cares which must be borne

Seize it, no matter when or where,
And for their safety breathe a prayer,
If between task and task there lies
A brief release from enterprise
Seize the swift seconds while you may,
And as men silently to pray.

From dawn to dusk, late night or noon,
Pray God to grant them victory soon.

Keep them in mind, nor doubt, nor fear
Though soft the prayer, the Lord will hear.

SILENT GENIUS

I have just added to my storehouse of artistic treasures a book under the title of "The Art of Jacob Epstein," by Robert Black. I first became interested in this artist at the time that his "Rima" was unveiled in London as a tribute to W. H. Hudson's beloved character in "Green Mansions." I was disappointed in it, but as I look again upon its conception I am aware of the feeling in the artist who conceived and wrought it in stone. It is, as the author of this book has said—"a mural in stone."

As I have gone through the pages of this magnificent book, and looked upon the reproduced likeness of many of my favorites, such as Joseph Conrad, R. B. Cunningham Graham, Muirhead Bone, and others, I see the light of silent genius at work.

But great as are the portraits that this artist has fashioned, his original conceptions are far greater. His "Mother and Child," for instance, is so elusively spiritual, dramatic, and astounding that you look long upon it. You can only say, with the artist, "I rest silent in my work." As he does. Everything that he has created reflects this sentence, no matter what the critics may say. I am a mere lover of beauty—not a critic.

Jacob Epstein, though silent in words, speaks so loudly in his works that in the phrase of Emerson, you cannot hear what he says—in words.

There are strength, earthiness, and melodious form in the things that this creative artist has done. Yet, withal, an elusive beauty that sings poems to you and recites epics, as you look upon them.

Is Jacob Epstein easy to understand? No. Who among the great are easy to understand? Probably no sculptor of his time has been so grossly misunderstood or more severely criticized. I have an idea, however, that this has never troubled or hindered him in the pursuit of his ideals. How, then, is this artist to be explained? It is not necessary. We have grown up to much in this life.

Many of the pieces of this Master are difficult to understand at first sight, but when you understand the artist, his background, the urge of his spirit, then the real beauty and meaning of his work are revealed. Humanity is sensed—and you see much of your silent self in the cut stone or marble. In Jacob Epstein, it is my belief, the world has a child of the immortals!

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Comfortable People"

College R. O. T. C. in Big Parade: Transported by four big army trucks, provided by the government, the College Reserve Officers' Training Corps sent a delegation of 75 men to Baltimore on Saturday to participate in the Army Day celebration there preceding the Army-Marine football game there in the afternoon.

Wed at Parsonage: Miss Viola Grace Fleck, of Cumberland township, and Charles F. Harner, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Harner, of near Littlestown, were united in marriage at the parsonage of the Lutheran church in Mt. Joy township by the Rev. L. K. Young Thursday evening.

Now a quartet of years has rolled by and Don Cragin, of the Blue and White team turned the tables on Gettysburg by defeating her huskies by three points, scored by a drop-kick from the 42-yard line. Less than two minutes remained to be played when the perfect kick was made, the second of the day.

A drop kick was made by Bream for Gettysburg in the third period of play.

Car Presented to Coach Wood: A most enthusiastic and impressive mass meeting was held in Brum Chapel Tuesday evening in preparation for the Franklin and Marshall game Thursday, features of which were the presentation of a 1923 model, four cylinder touring car to Coach W. W. Wood and a gold watch to Coach Harry Rote.

Dr. William A. Granville made the presentations.

Former County Boy Takes Bride: Announcement was made here of the wedding on Saturday afternoon, November 25, at 5:30 o'clock of George T. Raffensperger, formerly of Arendtsville, to Catherine Merrow at the home of the bride's parents Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Merrow, in Phillipsburg, Pennsylvania.

The impressive ring ceremony was performed by the bride's pastor, Rev. R. S. Oyler, of the Methodist Episcopal church.

Mr. Raffensperger is a son of Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Raffensperger of Arendtsville. He is a material inspector for the State Highway Department and has been located in Pittsburgh since 1918. He is an alumnus of the Arendtsville Vocational School.

Fliers Continue Search For World War II Air Hero

BUZZ WAGNER
"UNREPORTED"
FOR FOUR DAYS

Washington, Dec. 3 (AP)—Army fliers scanned the waters and coast line of the Gulf of Mexico today for their "one-man aerial blitz," Boyd D. (Buzz) Wagner, of Johnstown, Pa., first American ace of World War II, missing four days on a routine flight.

Wagner, one of the Army's youngest lieutenant colonels, took off from an Army Air base in Florida for Maxwell Field, Alabama, and has been unreported since, the War department announced last night.

He was understood here to have been flying a single-engine pursuit plane. As a lieutenant, Wagner was commanding a squadron of P-40's in the Philippines when the war started and within two weeks shot down five Japanese planes and led his squadron in destroying 24 more on the ground.

Air Score Incomplete
The records aren't complete on the Ace's victories but the air forces credit him with destroying between 30 and 50 enemy planes in the air and on the ground.

He and his companions didn't care particularly how they attacked the Nipponese. On occasions, they tossed hand grenades at the invaders from the cockpits of their pursuit ships. Other times, they carried bombs in their laps and tossed them overboard at Japanese troops, ships and installations. They sank three small transports by raking the vessels with machine gun bullets.

"Buzz" won the distinguished service cross for extraordinary heroism before most of the American planes on the island of Luzon were destroyed. He was assigned to Australia where a Japanese bullet smashed his windshield and sent a sliver of glass into his eye, restricting his flying.

Rapid Promotion
Awarded the purple heart and made an instructor in Australia, Wagner taught combat tactics to new pilots just arrived from the United States. He refused to stay grounded, however, and soon was leading one of his green squadrons into battle over New Guinea. He accounted for three enemy planes himself.

He was promoted to captain last January 20. Three months later he was jumped over the rank of major and made a lieutenant colonel at 26. He was born in Emeigh, Pa. Wagner studied aeronautical engineering at the University of Pittsburgh. He enlisted as an aviation cadet in 1937.

Believe Man Died
In Burning Home

Bredinsburg, Pa., Dec. 3 (AP)—A. R. Bredin, elderly well-to-do farmer and oil producer was believed to have perished in a fire which burned his 12-room house to the ground in this Venango county town a mile north of Franklin today.

A domestic said she thought Bredin went to the second floor bathroom to light an oil stove. The maid and Mrs. Bredin, an invalid, who was with her on the first floor, called to him but received no answer. Then flames burst from the second floor.

The maid summoned Edward Winter, a neighbor, who carried Mrs. Bredin to his home. When Winter returned, the Bredin house was a mass of flames and he could not approach it.

Rocky Grove and Franklin departments battled the fire. Bredin was a descendant of the town's founder.

Flashes of Life

FOOL'S PARADISE

South Bend, Ind. (AP)—At least one middle westerner was happy about gasoline rationing—temporarily.

A truck driver showed his coupon book at a Mishawaka station and asked for his quota, which the attendant pumped into his tank. Then the driver asked:

"Is oil free too?"
The attendant, Caesar Elbode, explained everything to the trucker, who left the station "Sadder, but wiser."

WINTER FOLLY

Denver (AP)—Walking past a shop, a woman saw three girls reaching for the ceiling.

She summoned a patrolman Dominic Crow, who dashed in, gun in hand.

The clerks explained that they hadn't been robbed—they were just cold and testing wall ventilators.

DEFLATED

Cullison, Kas. (AP)—Cullison, a town of 256 population, knows there's a war.

The town's only grocery was closed. Its only milk route will cease operation January 1. And now its bank has been moved to Pratt, 10 miles away.—All because the helps gone to war.

PERSISTENCE

Allerton, Ill. (AP)—Workmen strained to get a new rope on the city's 80 foot flagpole. Formal raising was announced for Nov. 22.

Franksters pulled one end of the dangling cord up to the pulley at the top of the pole. Flag raising was postponed until November 29 while wearied workers shinnied up the pole.

Now the ceremony has been put off until December 13. It's happened again.

ACQUITTED OF STEALING PANTS

Philadelphia, Dec. 3 (AP)—A directed verdict of acquittal was filed today in the case of Maxwell Waitzman, 49, partner in the closed Souderton (Pa.) Pants company, after his five-day trial on charges of conspiracy and embezzling 2,500 pairs of Army pants and 750 yards of Army cloth belonging to the government.

His cousin and partner, Paul Waitzman, 43, also was acquitted on the conspiracy charge by a directed verdict, but federal Judge George A. Welsh did not order his acquittal on the embezzlement counts.

A third partner, Max Apfelschmitt, 65, similarly charged, remains to be tried.

SOLONS PUSH CAMPAIGN TO OUST OPA HEAD

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST

Washington, Dec. 3 (AP)—Government bureaus in general and the Office of Price Administration in particular found themselves the targets today of a congressional drive to retrieve some of the powers delegated in recent years to the executive arm of the government.

A definite "get Leon Henderson" movement was under way, with Democratic House members, mostly from the south, joining in a chorus of criticism of the price administrator.

Republicans kept on the sidelines, but influential minority members said they were ready to join in a campaign, expected to reach a climax early in the next Congress, to shear Henderson of much, if not all, of his authority and to apply a legislative squeeze on other emergency bureaus.

Attacks Henderson
"We are suffering from a severe case of federalitis," said Representative Barden (D-NC) in one of several attacks in the House yesterday on what most of the speakers referred to as "the bureaucrats."

Barden drew applause from Democrats and Republicans alike when he suggested that if the heads of federal bureaus refuse to heed the warnings of Congress, "let them feel us."

"Somebody down there," he asserted, referring to OPA, "wants to get the American people in the habit of crawling to him on their hands and knees and asking for something, even if it's only a blank sheet of paper."

J. Curtin told the court that evidence showed the company had sold to civilian purchasers 1,713 pairs of Army pants and 923 1/2 yards of Army cloth after Army buttons and tags had been removed.

Governor-elect Edward Martin reported expenditures of $2,435, including $1,500 contributed to the Republican State committee. Auditor General F. Clair Ross, unsuccessful Democratic candidate for governor, listed $1,000 expenses, contributed to the state committee.

OBSERVER SEES NEW ACTION IN PACIFIC AREA

(This column, conducted as a daily feature by DeWitt Mackenzie, is written today by Glenn Babb. Mr. Mackenzie, now touring the Middle East warzone, is expected to resume shortly.)

The spotlight of the war may be shifting back to the southwest Pacific. Today's dispatches indicate that we probably will get our next news of major victory from the bloody beaches of New Guinea. And there seems to be new trouble brewing in the Solomons; at least Tokyo is on the air today with an unsubstantiated report of a successful Japanese naval raid on our forces there.

For the past month, except for the brilliant mid-November interlude of the naval battle off Guadalcanal, attention has been focussed on North Africa and Russia. But the Allied successes there apparently have led into new, less exhilarating and spectacular phases of the two major campaigns, with the enemy reformed for battle and ready to slug it out.

Rommel Gets Aid

General Montgomery apparently is almost ready to assault Rommel's new line at El Aghelia, but the German is reported to have gathered together some 60,000 men and 200 or 300 tanks to defend that narrow gateway into Tripolitania.

In Tunisia the Germans evidently have concentrated not merely stubborn holding strength but some striking power for the defense of the Tunis-Biberte beachhead; they have counterattacked strongly in the Tebourba region and have made generally very heavy going for the British First Army and its American supporting units. The Allied command there is up against extremely difficult problems of transport and supply and it may be several days before there is any major change in the battle lines.

New Guinea Gains

But down on New Guinea General MacArthur's Australian-American jungle fighters seem to have brought their surge back from Port Moresby close to its triumphant end. Today's communique indicates that the Japanese have been thrust back into a narrow coastal area only a few miles long in which they face extermination. MacArthur's men have rolled them back from Gona, at the northern end of the 20-mile beach that curves away to the southeast to Buna. The Allied drive from the north is approaching Sanananda, about halfway between Gona and Buna, while the southern wing is infiltrating into Buna. A naval convoy which may have represented the last hopes of the Japanese for escape, reinforcement or supply has just been driven off. The few thousand left on the beach, still fighting fanatically, probably no longer have a choice between a Dunkerque or a Corregidor.

It is too early to say what may have happened in the channel between Guadalcanal and Tulagi in the Solomons on Monday night. The Japanese have rushed to the microphone to broadcast their version; these are tactics made familiar after the Coral Sea, Midway, Santa

NATION'S OIL SHORTAGE IS KEPT SECRET

Kansas City, Dec. 3 (AP)—There is a crude oil shortage in the United States, but the figures are secret, government witnesses told Senator Truman's wartime investigating committee.

Chairman Truman (D-Mo) countered with the statement that precautionary rationing of fuel oil in the producing midwest would "be vastly improved by a little horse sense."

Committeemen leave for Washington, today, to resume the hearings Friday.

E. B. Swanson, director of research for the Petroleum Coordinator, and Wirt Franklin, director of production for the Chicago region, were the final government witnesses.

Storage Shrinks

Swanson testified crude oil in storage has declined more than 35,000,000 barrels in the past year, in the area east of the Rocky mountains; he blamed transportation limitations and said the only way to make up the shortage is to reduce consumption.

Franklin said a slump in drilling and exploratory activities was also a major factor. Previous witnesses had told the committee that wildcatting (seeking new fields) was at a standstill because priorities for necessary materials could not be obtained.

Mayor John B. Gage and earlier protesters declared that fuel oil is plentiful here and should not be

No Ceiling On Christmas Trees

Washington, Dec. 3 (AP)—There will be no ceiling on Christmas trees.

Three government agencies today exempted the Yuletide institution from price, production and distribution control.

The Office of Price Administration said there would be no price ceiling but asked that "prices be held at the level of last year."

rationed since coal and gas—the alternative fuels—are not plentiful.

Senator Truman interrupted testimony yesterday by regional fuel oil Administrator Ralph C. Kanaar, Dallas, Tex., to remark:

"It seems to me we could use a little horse sense and set up a basis that would work in this area."

Admits Errors

And when Kanaar agreed there would be errors in rationing allotments, the Senator retorted:

"There will be! There have been! There have been nothing but errors come out of this whole thing!"

Charles E. Johnston, chairman of the western division of the American Association of Railroads, acknowledged that trains can haul more oil eastward—but he testified that unloading facilities in the east cannot handle heavier shipments. He said he did not see how fuel oil rationing here could solve that problem; and neither would it help, he added, to have to haul more coal from east to west to replace reduced fuel oil allotments here.

EIGHTH DEER SEASON DEATH

Harrisburg, Dec. 3 (AP)—The fatal wounding of Woodrow F. Meeker, 26, of Centre Hall, has brought to eight the death toll in Pennsylvania's deer season.

Meeker, a defense worker in a Sharon plant, had returned to Centre Hall yesterday to hunt and was mortally wounded when a companion's gun was accidentally discharged.

Three other hunters have died from gunshot wounds, three from heart ailments and one in an automobile accident since the season opened on Monday.

The state game commission, which had asked hunters to turn in deer skins for war purposes, praised the nimrods for their response today.

The skins are used to make vests for merchant seamen and gloves for men in the armed forces.

Seth Gordon, commission director, suggested if the skins are contributed for merchant seamen they should be shipped express prepaid to tanneries in Glensport, Williamsport, Nokes, St. Mary's, Westover, Ridgeway, Clearfield, Emporium, Wilcox, Mt. Jewett, Curwensville, Westfield, Easton or Philadelphia.

If hunters want the skins to go to men in the armed forces they should be turned over to district game protectors, Gordon said.

Letters To The Editor

The Gettysburg Times,

Dear Sirs:

Just a word to tell you of a change of address. Recently I have been transferred to Camp Perry, Ohio. Up here it is rather cold, especially this time of year. We are situated right off Lake Erie and the wind, which bristles across the lake, cuts through like a knife.

I have been transferred here along with nine other men from Aberdeen Proving Ground for the purpose of setting up and revising schedules which are pertinent in the technical training activities of the Ordnance Dept. My particular job is setting up a course and teaching it to potential instructors so that they can put forth their knowledge of the subjects to their students in a better way and in a shorter period of time.

The camp itself is fairly new, being in operation only about three months so there is plenty of work to be done as there always is in all new Army camps.

Your newspaper has always been appreciated since my entrance into the Army nearly two years ago. I am looking forward to your next issues of The Gettysburg Times. My new address is as it appears below.

Very truly yours,
Lt. Stanley C. Settle, Ord. Dept.,
Ordnance Unit Training Center,
Camp Perry, Ohio

The Gettysburg Times

Dear Editor:

We are sorry to trouble you again to change the address of our papers, but we have been transferred again.

After spending a ten-day furlough with our parents we are now in the army again, only now we are not on maneuvers. We are now living in barracks again, and are in the same barracks that we were in before we went on maneuvers. We certainly did enjoy ourselves while on maneuvers.

Since we left Pennsylvania in March we have seen some beautiful country. But it sure was a pleasure to get back to Pennsylvania and Adams County again although we didn't have very much time to spend at home.

I have often heard that the army feeds a good meal on Thanksgiving, but I never had the pleasure (if you call it a pleasure) to really experience a Thanksgiving dinner before today. I mean to say it sure was something to be proud of.

It sure is a pleasure to read The Gettysburg Times at the end of a day.

We are now drilling about six hours a day, as that is about all that we have to do now at the present time. We don't know how long we will be here, but as far as we know we will be here for the winter.

We don't have much more to say this time, but we are sure glad that you show your appreciation to the members of the armed forces of the United States. We surely do appreciate it.

We remain,

Pvt. Earl L. McClain and
Robert J. Hartlaub
262nd Sig. Const. Co.,
Bks. 2839,
Camp Crowder,
Missouri.

The Gettysburg Times
Gettysburg, Pennsylvania.
Gentlemen:

For the past four months I have been receiving The Gettysburg Times regularly, and it is enjoyed by everyone. I find that wherever I go many of the soldiers want to read the newspaper from historic Gettysburg.

It is a wonderful service your organization is giving us. Certainly a soldier is always glad to know the news from his home-town, but some soldiers find it hard to receive such news... but not Adams County soldiers, because The Gettysburg Times is handling that situation perfectly.

From time to time I have been transferred from one field to another, but the newspaper was always forwarded to the new address. Now I am stationed temporarily at Bowman Field, Kentucky, awaiting assignment; so for your convenience, I believe it would be best for you to discontinue the "Times" until I can give you a permanent address.

Again I want to thank you for the kind interest and consideration you are showing Adams County servicemen and women.

Respectfully,
Pvt. Russell E. Cook
Bowman Field,
Louisville, Kentucky.

The Gettysburg Times

Dear Friends,

Just a few lines to let you know that my outfit has moved. We are now with the Hammond General Hospital at Modesto, California. This is a fine hospital, and Modesto is one swell town. The people there treat us fine. We are only about one and one half mile from the town. It is nice and warm here during day, but gets a little cool after night.

I want to thank you for sending me The Gettysburg Times. It sure is a pleasure to be able to read what is going on back home. I think the service edition for men and women in the service is one fine idea. Again thanking you for the paper, I remain,

Sincerely yours,
Pvt. Paul Eckenrode,
Modesto, California.

Night Ball Out In Philadelphia

Philadelphia, Dec. 3 (AP)—Night baseball apparently is a war casualty in Philadelphia.

Dim out regulations announced by the Third Service command require that outdoor flood lights be screened to prevent reflections in the sky, and such adjustments were believed impossible on the huge lights at athletic fields.

Outdoor boxing shows and night football games also are affected. Temple university already has abandoned plans for night football next year.

Connie Mack, manager of the Philadelphia Athletics, said before the regulations were announced that a ban on night games would be a severe financial blow to the A's. Gerald P. Nugent, owner of the Philadelphia Phils, said his National league team would be less seriously affected because it plays few games here at night.

Clearfield, Pa., Dec. 3 (AP)—Sylvan Williams, president of a Clearfield taxidermy company, brought down his own specimen for mounting—a six-point buck he said he killed with a bow and arrow.

Knavery may serve a turn, but honesty is best in the end. There are nothing but honest statements in the Gettysburg Times Classified Ads. Every ad is scrutinized when it is accepted in order that readers may have complete confidence in its offer.

COUNTY DEER KILL IS LIGHT

The kill of deer is light so far this season in the South mountains, Game Protector Leo Bushman reported Wednesday evening, but added that most of the antlered game being taken is of good size and in good condition.

There have been some prosecutions for carrying loaded guns in automobiles and one hunter who concealed a spike buck in the trunk of his auto and tried to get out of the mountains with his illegal kill paid $100 for shooting the deer and then had the venison taken from him by the game protector. The buck was turned over to the Hoffman orphanage.

Two other spike bucks have been found dead in the mountains, left behind by hunters who discovered the lack of antlers too late. A doe was found dead with a broken neck along a high fence in the Big Flat area.

Cleveland, Dec. 3 (AP)—Coast Guard vessels attempted to restore contact today with the 250-foot oil barge Cleveco, which had drifted through a wintry night after cutting loose from the tug Admiral, whose sinking cost 14 lives.

The ice-sheeted barge, with 19 men aboard, lost radio communication with the nearby Coast Guard cutter Ossipee shortly before dusk yesterday, when water put her generators out of commission and crippled at least a part of her heating system.

The Ossipee reported early today she had lost contact, said district Coast Guard headquarters, and at daybreak two civil air patrol planes were dispatched to scout the area, about ten miles off Cleveland.

Coast Guard Seeks 19 On Oil Barge

London, Dec. 3 (AP)—The RAF, renewing its night assaults on the Reich after a lapse of 10 days, struck last night at Frankfurt and several other objectives in western Germany, the air ministry announced today. Six aircraft were lost.

Estimating that the losses were five per cent, however—a figure frequently used as an index in the past—this would mean that a force of about 120 bombers was employed.

The Berlin radio referred to the raids—the first on Germany by night since the attack on Stuttgart Nov. 22—as "nuisance raids."

It was the RAF's 36th raid on Frankfurt, the last being that of Sept. 8.

Reich Industries Are Blasted Again

Philadelphia, Dec. 3 (AP)—For the first time in the 55-year history of the Iron Workers union (AFL), women have been admitted to membership. Ninety women members were accepted yesterday and the union said initiation fees and job examinations were waived to allow them to go to work immediately in war plants.

Rita looked up, and Doctor Burrows felt suddenly sick. The color had drained out of her cheeks again, her eyes were dull as paste.

"No," she said in a monotone. "I think I'll lie down." She turned and left without a word. The telegram fluttered to the porch unnoticed.

Doctor Burrows with a muttered oath picked it up and read it without compunction. It said:

"Dearest sympathy. Hope to see you when you are in New York again. Clark Pasquin."

"The damned jackanapes!" the Doctor exploded. So that's the skunk that got her into all this mess!

To relieve his feelings he stomped across the lawn and down through the orange grove.

The End For Rolly

Rita did not cry again. She went through the preparations for the funeral with a strange, quiet detachment that tore at the Doctor's heart.

"They killed him!" she screamed. "They aren't friends. They—killed Rolly!"

Two Girls and a Man

Chapter Ten

With Tom Ralston's death the last vestige of Rita's old life was swept away. She was caught in a world of frightful emptiness.

During those first horrible days when she realized Rolly was gone, her strength and control broke. Doctor Burrows quieted her with sedatives, from which she would arouse into fresh paroxysms of grief. When approached concerning details of the funeral, she cried there would be no funeral.

"But your father's neighbors and friends..." Dr. Burrows argued gently.

"They killed him!" she screamed. "They aren't friends. They—killed Rolly!"

Doctor Burrows said quietly, "You don't mean that, Rita."

"I do!" she blazed. "I—!" and her head dropped on his shoulder in tormented sobs. "No," she whispered. "I—don't mean it. Oh, Doc, how can I live without Rolly?"

It was then that Miss Thrasher had come in. "There's a wire for you, Rita, from a Mr. Pasquin from New York. I told them to send it over, I didn't think you'd want to take it over the phone."

"Clark..." Rita's sobs quieted; her heart lifted for the first time with something like joy. Doctor Burrows smiled as he watched her face. "There's still friends—and love in the world, Rita girl," he said gently.

When the telegraph boy's bicycle stopped at the front gate and he started across the lawn, Rita was on the porch to meet him. Doctor Burrows silently blessed this Clark fellow as he tipped the boy and took the telegram. A faint flush was on Rita's white cheeks, a light of anticipation in her eyes. She ripped open the envelope and read the message.

"Well?" Doctor Burrows prodded with jovial curiosity. "Is he coming to see us?"

Rita looked up, and Doctor Burrows felt suddenly sick. The color had drained out of her cheeks again, her eyes were dull as paste.

"No," she said in a monotone. "I think I'll lie down." She turned and left without a word. The telegram fluttered to the porch unnoticed.

Doctor Burrows with a muttered oath picked it up and read it without compunction. It said:

"Dearest sympathy. Hope to see you when you are in New York again. Clark Pasquin."

"The damned jackanapes!" the Doctor exploded. So that's the skunk that got her into all this mess!

To relieve his feelings he stomped across the lawn and down through the orange grove.

Rita did not cry again. She went through the preparations for the funeral with a strange, quiet detachment that tore at the Doctor's heart.

Tom Ralston was buried on the hillside beside his wife at three in the afternoon after a simple ceremony in the village church. Flowers poured in from every corner of the country side, and every rancher was there. No matter how they felt about the factory, Tom Ralston was their neighbor, their friend. They paid him the last homage.

Rita hardly knew they were there. She did not hear the minister's short, sincere eulogy. She sat with her gaze on the flower decked altar just above the silver casket, a blank, patient expression on her face.

Doctor Burrows was worried. When Sam Arlen approached him out at the cemetery and asked him if it would be all right for a committee to call on Rita the next day and talk about the factory, he controlled his feelings with difficulty. He wanted to shout, "Damn the factory!" But he found himself saying instead, "If she wants to do it. Because he had had an idea."

Miss Thrasher had a hot supper for them on the screened verandah that overlooked the orchard. The Doctor and the nurse took turns urging food on Rita until she had eaten what they felt was essential. Then Doctor Burrows pushed back his coffee cup and said genially, "Well, Rita, how about packing a suitcase or two and getting started?"

A flicker of surprise crossed Rita's pale face. "Started?" she asked. "Where?"

"Well, where would you like to go?" The Doctor clipped the end of his cigar cheerfully. "I think you should get out of here for a spell. East, West, North or South, I don't care so long as you stay out of the way of the Nip Nips and Nazis."

Rita rose from the table and moved aimlessly across the verandah to look off into the moonlit fragrance of the orchard stretching down the gentle slope below the house. Doctor Burrows was beginning to

HITLER STOOGE, IL DUCE, SCORES CHURCHILL, FOR

London, Dec. 3 (AP)—Premier Churchill struck back angrily Wednesday to Prime Minister Churchill's warning that the Italian people should sue for peace and said the Italians "will not be inferior to the British and Russians."

Reading extracts from Churchill's warning that Italy would be placed under "prolonged, scientific and shattering air attack," Mussolini said Churchill hoped to undermine the resistance of the Italian people.

"If this should happen the Italian nation would renounce forever its dream of being a great nation," the premier said.

Mussolini was heard coughing and breathing heavily as he delivered his speech to the Fascist Chamber of Corporations.

Evacuating Cities

Intoning Churchill's accusation that "one man and one man only" was responsible for Italy's entry into the war, Mussolini asked scornfully "when did the prime minister ever ask the British people if they wanted war?"

He promised that Germany would reinforce Italy with "powerful contributions" and said "the joint Italian-German defenses will give the raiders a hot reception."

Women and children are being removed from Italian cities and towns to leave fighters "masters of the situation," Mussolini explained.

There have been reports of mass evacuations from Turin and Genoa, which have been heavily raided by RAF bombers based in England in recent weeks.

"Stab in Back"

Referring to Churchill's reproach to the "stab in the back" to France, Mussolini declared that no one expected France to collapse so suddenly and added that France still had an air force and navy intact when Italy declared war.

When he came to Churchill's question to the Italian people, "How long will it last?" Mussolini said:

"I answer in the most solemn manner—forever. Until we achieve complete victory."

Defending Italy's entry into the war, he said that if she had remained neutral both belligerents would have maltreated her.

Noting that Churchill called him a hyena, Mussolini said he considered himself "a thousand times more a gentleman than Churchill, intoxicated with alcohol and tobacco."

Slandering Roosevelt

"England's history of the last 300 years is one of a long list of acts worthy of hyenas," he added.

"Churchill says my empire is gone, but the last word has not been spoken."

The premier complained that "nobody ever really understood Italy" and "every time we asked for something we found obstacles in our path."

"If I had listened to that hyena Roosevelt he would have thought me a 'chump,'" he said.

He scolded the Italians for circulating "silly stories and gossip" about the Duce and cited as an instance the night he ordered the occupation of Corsica.

The rumor was circulated throughout Italy, he said, that he had undergone an operation and even that he had died.

$67,999 Spent In Allegheny County

Pittsburgh, Dec. 3 (AP)—Democrats spent $67,999.42 for their November election campaign in Allegheny county, according to an accounting field Wednesday.

Leading individual contributions included: $650—State Chairman David L. Lawrence, Senator B. B. McGinnis, J. P. Barr; $600—Congressman Thomas E. Scanlon; $500—Congressmen Samuel A. Weiss, Herman Eberharter, and James A. Wright, and County Commissioner John J. Kane.

ging match with the armed services. With President Roosevelt in the dual role of matchmaker and referee, the long pending controversy was declared settled Tuesday with Vice Chairman Charles E. Wilson of the War Production Board, the new boss of aircraft production. The President, himself, announced the problem was solved—just as he previously said it would be—by getting the participants together in a room and keeping them there until an agreement was reached.

Heaviest Battleship To Be Launched Dec. 6

Philadelphia, Dec. 3 (AP)—The heaviest battleship ever built will be launched at the Philadelphia Navy yard Monday as yard workers observe December 7, first anniversary of the Pearl Harbor attack.

The craft, to be christened the New Jersey, originally was designed to have a displacement of 45,000 tons, the Fourth Naval district said, but the tonnage was increased in order to incorporate lessons learned in naval battles in this war. The exact tonnage was not announced.

The New Jersey's sister ship, the Iowa, launched at the Brooklyn Navy yard last August 27, has a 45,000-ton displacement.

Mrs. Charles Edison, wife of the Governor of New Jersey, will sponsor the new ship. Edison formerly was Secretary of the Navy.

Ice Follies Open At Hershey Dec. 12

Hershey, Pa., Dec. 3—Strong in comedy and with a star-studded cast of 120 talented figure skaters who have played before more than a half million spectators since September, the Ice Follies of 1943 will open a seven-day stand in the Hershey Sports Arena beginning on the night of December 12, with no performance on Sunday, December 13th.

The seventh edition of this highly successful skating carnival has all the glamour and appeal possessed by the Ice Follies of previous seasons, and even a bit more. The producers term it the largest and best-dressed ice revue ever staged here.

A gay-costumed chorus line of forty expert girl skaters and numerous individual acts, including veterans as well as several skilful newcomers, have delighted audiences in many sections of the country since the show opened on the Pacific Coast three months ago.

Ten attractive group numbers, headed by the Enchanted Lake and Indian Village sequences, are on the twenty-four-act program. The Indian extravaganza, incidentally, presents Miss Norah McCarthy of Canada, the North American champion and one of the featured new performers of the current Follies cast.

Another newcomer sharing equal billing with Miss McCarthy is 20-year-old blond Miss Betty Atkinson of Long Beach, California, who mastered the technique of skating in the short span of three years and now is regarded as a leading acrobatic and adagio specialist.

The comedy entertainment is admirably handled by a group of veterans, including Frick and Frack, masters of eccentric, off-balance skating; Heinie Brock, skilled ad-

If your skin is rough, dry, unattractive-looking, or marred by ugly externally-caused pimples and blemishes, read this carefully!

Thousands of women have already made wonderful improvement in their complexions with a medicated formula which nurses were among the first to discover as an aid to skin beauty... a formula which scores of doctors themselves use in the care of their skin, and often recommend to their patients.

This formula is Noxzema Medicated Skin Cream. In the next few days we want 1000 women to try it on the Special Offer outlined below. Use it for just 10 days. Then feel your skin; let your fingertips and your mirror prove how effective it is. That's because Noxzema is not just a cosmetic cream. And, in addition, it has a mildly astringent action.

Literally thousands of women have made this trial and have been overjoyed to see the wonderful improvement in their skin. Miss Norma L. Lodes, of Minneapolis, writes: "I work in a drug store and was most unhappy because of externally-caused blemishes on my face. Now Noxzema has helped change everything... people tell me I have a beautiful complexion, and I frequently suggest Noxzema to our customers." Miss Dee Chapman, Los Angeles, says: "I like off-the-face hats but was embarrassed by ugly externally-caused blemishes on my forehead. Then a friend recommended Noxzema and not only did it help heal the blemishes, but my skin became softer and smoother, too."

Try Noxzema for just 10 days. Use it as a night cream and as a powder base. See for yourself how much it can do to help make your skin softer, smoother, lovelier!

Front Teeth And Gums Are Shot Away But Youth Sticks To Guns And Tries To Smile

(Editor's note—The following episode in the October Naval action in the southwest Pacific are described by Charles McMurtry, Associated Press correspondent who was badly burned when a Japanese plane crash-dived an American carrier which the Navy announced as sunk.)

By CHARLES MCMURTRY

With the U. S. Fleet in the Pacific, December 3 (AP)—A seventeen-year-old kid named Russell lay on the deck of our crippled carrier, trying hard to smile. His fists were clenched, but tears just would leak out the corners of his eyes and trickle down his smoke-begrimed face.

Russell was badly burned and suffering intensely. But sailors don't complain. And Russell's a sailor, a wounded war veteran—at an age for a boy to be in school and timidly asking a girl for a date, or playing baseball and football.

"Am I Brave?"

But Russell's fighting to win this war—fighting alongside men old enough to be his father. As a doctor applied soothing ointment, the boy tried to smile, and asked:

"Doctor, am I being brave enough?"

A private first class from New York city stuck with his gun after sharpshooting tore away his upper front teeth and gums. He had to be ordered away. With his mouth almost hidden in bandages he tried to give everyone a friendly smile. Complain? Sure and why not—but only about one thing:

"Soup, nothing but soup. They had steak for breakfast and all I could do was smell it."

Then there was Comdr. E. L. Calhoun of Hopedale, Washington, who underwent an appendectomy complicated by peritonitis just eight days before the battle. On the morning of the engagement, he fell and ripped open a corner of his incision.

Saves Many Lives

Commander Calhoun was on a cruiser to which 98 injured men were taken. He worked with them for 16 hours until ship's officers put him to bed, and then worked 12 hours or more daily for another five days, and undoubtedly saved many lives.

Many men can thank the middle-aged unassuming Calhoun for recovering without scars. I can vouch for that. Many days later I am still typing with one finger but evidently will have no scars and my burned hands are healing surprisingly fast.

There were other doctors like him, too. There were Lieut. Comdr. W. H. Schwartz, 38, of Ojai, Calif., and Lieut. C. C. Chesko, 32, of Pittsburgh, Pa., who joined a year ago. They treated 68 on their cruiser.

Poor Working Conditions

On a destroyer, to which many wounded were taken, there was Medical Lieutenant J. Robert Schmidt, 28, of Cincinnati, a graduate of the Cincinnati Medical school who had been in the Navy but six months.

Schmidt and his aides worked under country-doctor conditions—no X-ray, no laboratory, no operating table. There isn't room on a destroyer for surgical facilities. But the Cincinnati and his aides did a wonderful job—on the word of doctors from the cruisers to which most of the patients were transferred.

Judge Carroll, deferring sentence, commented that Keen was "physically torpedoed in Russian waters and financially torpedoed in Philadelphia."

ASK FARMERS TO INCREASE FOOD QUOTAS

Harrisburg, Dec. 3 (AP)—Pennsylvania farmers were asked Wednesday to prepare to meet the highest food production quotas in history.

The food for freedom quotas, said the state war board of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, call for these increases over 1941: milk, 4 per cent; livestock, 16 per cent; poultry, 26 per cent; turkeys, 15 per cent; eggs, eight per cent; potatoes, 10 per cent; feed grains, except wheat, 15 per cent.

"The goals for 1943 reflect the need for foods of most value in the wartime diet," declared James E. Walker, board chairman.

He said a special committee is working on allotments for Pennsylvania, broken down to counties and to individual farms.

The suggested acreage of wheat is lower than this year's while goals for all kinds of tobacco are about the same, as are quotas for commercial truck crop production.

May Buy Equipment
Walker also said a new order permits county rationing committees to certify for purchase machinery and equipment in hands of dealers. Machinery stocks in distributors or manufacturers' warehouses are kept "frozen" under the order, he explained.

Meanwhile Dr. E. E. Keeper, Pennsylvania State college agricultural economist said "longer working hours, plus the patriotic contribution of women and children in the farm labor situation, are helping to stimulate food production."

Dr. Keeper added, however, that "a more satisfactory solution must be provided if production is to be increased or even maintained at its present level."

The lake which forms the inner harbor of Bizerte is fifty miles long and deep enough for the largest battleships.

NOW SHE SHOPS "CASH AND CARRY"

Without Painful Backache
Many sufferers believe nagging backache, once they discover that it is real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys. The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the waste out of the blood. They help control the body's pH balance.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisons to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up at night, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty urination with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give better relief and will help the 15 million of kidney troubles that are not recognized until it is too late. Doan's Pills.

17 Fined $3650 For Buying Gas Books

Philadelphia, Dec. 3 (AP)—Seventeen persons were fined a total of $3,650 in federal court Tuesday after pleading guilty or no defense to charges of buying or receiving gasoline books stolen from a Norristown, Pa., rationing board office last August.

Thirty-four others indicted in the black market were fined $10,260 on October 23 and forty-four others have paid smaller fines.

Assistant U. S. Attorney Joseph E. Gold said the 17 fined yesterday destroyed ration books when they learned that the theft had been reported to the Office of Price Administration. The books were stolen by two 16-year-old boys, Gold said.

NEED SURPLUS OF SCRAP FOR WINTER WORK

Harrisburg, Dec. 3 (AP)—Pennsylvanians were told today they may have to dig under winter snowdrifts for scrap if Monday's "Pearl Harbor" drive for 50,000 tons of old metal is a failure.

The collection is needed to help build up a scrap surplus, said Colley S. Baker, state salvage official, and unless a surplus is obtained "we will either have to curtail our war production or dig through snowdrifts next February."

The warning came as the state Defense Council reminded that Governor James has asked every man, woman and child in the state to collect at least 10 pounds of scrap on Dec. 7 "to avenge Pearl Harbor."

Baker lauded salvage committees for their efforts in past scrap drives but said "we cannot rest now."

Quota Not Met
"We have not yet met our quota of 3,000,000 tons of metal scrap asked by the War Production Board for the last six months of 1942," he explained. "To meet that quota—and unless we do, our war production mill will reduce their output this winter—every salvage committee in Pennsylvania will have to exert itself to the utmost."

He urged a house-to-house canvass in every county.

Meanwhile the Department of Public Instruction said Monday, Dec. 7, will be observed as "Pearl Harbor Day" in many schools and colleges in Pennsylvania.

"We have not arrived at a time for celebration," declared Dr. Francis B. Haas, superintendent, suggesting that day be observed in "the nature of a re-dedication of our personal and national efforts to the unfinished tasks which lie ahead."

Good Health—Sufferers of RHEUMATISM
CONSTIPATION
WEAK KIDNEYS

For Better Health!

MEDICAL SCIENCE for many centuries has believed in the curative properties of minerals. Now, as never before, doctors are stressing the importance of Minerals. The cry is: MINERALS! MINERALS!!

WE are told that "WE ARE WHAT WE EAT!" Foods lacking in minerals are often the cause of many ailments, such as: Decaying Teeth, Failing Eyesight, Nervous Tension, Indigestion, Kidney and Bladder Trouble, Frequent Colds, Bad Breath, General Run-Down Condition, and other disorders.

Drugless Health!

ORDINARY cathartics are habit-forming and never cure constipation. They force out the foods and digestive juices from your stomach and do not correct the cause of your trouble. BIO-MINERAL is not a physic and does not interfere with the natural foods in your stomach. It reaches down to the root—to the cause of your trouble, eliminating abnormal waste material, cleaning and purifying your intestines thoroughly in a natural, harmless and painless way.

BIO-MINERAL is a combination of vitally important Minerals, blended by Nature for those suffering the agony of Rheumatism, Arthritis, Stomach and Kidney ailments. It is NOT a Mineral Oil, physic or harmful drug. Contains NO alcohol—NO drugs—NO opiates—NO preservatives—NO oil. NOT a SINGLE habit-forming ingredient. ONLY Natural, Life-Giving Minerals—these same minerals of the world's best springs in highly concentrated liquid form.

Natural Minerals!

IF YOU SUFFER occasional constipation and other common stomach disorders, watch your elimination after taking BIO-MINERAL. In 2 or 3 days, the waste, black as coal and hard as rock, may break from the walls of the colon, and you will see it in the stool. It is almost unbelievable that such waste could be in your intestines UNTIL YOU SEE IT!

AFTER 3 DAYS examine your urine. You may see small pieces of white stone, threads and crystal-like matter, which should not be in your system—POISONS—coming out, relieving you! These poisons, collecting there probably for years, like rust in an old iron pipe, were weakening your kidneys and ruining your digestive system.

See With Your Eyes!

WE ASK YOU to try BIO-MINERAL and SEE with your own eyes! . . . the relief you get from your ailments. You may UPROOT and drive them OUT of your system. Regardless of how long you have been suffering. It takes only 3 days to prove it. To SEE—NOT to guess the results. BIO-MINERAL is easy to take and safe for delicate organisms. Diluted in water, it is like drinking rich mineral water from a mountain spring—Life-Giving Water. Try it! It is marvelous.

We will Refund Your Money in Full, If You Are Not Satisfied After 5 Days' Trial.
